

In onboard experiments, the LTE–Maritime router communicates with onshore BSs while a ship sails along the planned route. In addition, for data transmission, a file transfer protocol (FTP) auto–call server was used where DL, UL, and idle periods were set to 1, 1, and 3 minutes, respectively