

T-shirts appeared and we no longer distinguished between men's and women's clothing, and both became useful for both sexes, except that the invasion of music video clips became the norm. The Arab, for example, did not differ much, as it was the shirts 2