

A focus on the future: Transformational leaders always look ahead and think about what needs to be done to achieve the organization's goals. They strive to develop their followers' individual strengths and abilities so that they can reach their full potential. They inspire their followers to do the same