

o Private Law Contracts: Both parties are typically private individuals or entities, and the contract is. 1 governed by private law without direct involvement from public authorities. The other party is typically a .private individual or entity