to make you more effective. Write down a list of all the systems you are currently running. Find opportunities to make them better. Secondly, get your back of house in order. Go through them we have a solution of the control of the	