

The study in [218] demonstrates the use of BERT to detect behavioral changes in elderly adults living in smart homes, improving monitoring and personalized care