

Psychology: Psychology studies search features (characteristics) of the human psyche and human behavior, and thus studies human behavior, i.e. what he does with his environment and adapts to it. Thus, the relationship between education and psychology shows that education seeks to form a healthy human behavior and be a good person in his society