

Animal partners Animal partners are pairs or groups of animals that work together to achieve a common goal. These partnerships can be seen in various forms, such as symbiotic relationships, where both animals benefit from the partnership. Animal partnerships are essential for survival in the wild