

The criminal of noodles Every family has a crazy person in it. That person might not be real crazy, but he does impulsive things. He entered the kitchen looking for noodles that he loves more than any other thing. In the end, my father yelled at him to not steal noodles and also my mom. Not only he likes noodles more than us, but he also could do anything for noodles. He started to cook the noodles