

Afemorial Verses (1850) are a lament for that poet's death, and for the deaths of other poets at home and abroad. ARTHUR HUGH CLOUGH, Arnold's friend, wrote a few important poems. One of his other poems, Empedocles on Etna, has been highly praised, perhaps because it is not altogether sad