

One mistake I made was not preparing well for a school presentation. From this experience, I learned the importance of preparation. Now, before any presentation, I practice multiple times and make notes to stay organized.