All calculations of the neutral compounds and their radicals, anions and cations were calculated using Gaussian 09 software package and for molecular visualization, Gauss View was used .