

I have learnt a lot of different skills such as: critical thinking, communication and collaboration. The course has no difficulty or bad issues but, we can improve it to be more perfect for new generations such as adding new topics like: music types or space staff, adding new activities like: writing a short story or telling a story then discuss about it and so on. In this course, I got many wisdoms by my classmates and I was so happy accepting them, especially when it was a presenting time, the topics that had chosen were so interesting and all the topics had a story which made me feel enthusiastic to present mine. As I said previously that if you work in a team you should accept the opinions of others and this is the whole point of succeeding.
