

How is it Different from Buses, Trains, and Planes?

- o Energy Smart: It uses less energy because it glides in a tube with hardly any air to slow it down, like sliding on ice. If a car is a turtle, the Hyperloop is a rabbit.
- o Cheaper Trips: Even though it might be expensive to build, once it's up and running, taking a trip could cost less money.