

Early-stage cancer is defined as cases with stages I and IIa in UICC staging. –breast conservative– therapy consists of : –wide local excision –management of the axillary lymph nodes –postoperative radiotherapy *Wide local excision: of the mass and any area of suspicious microcalcifications with a 1 cm safety margin in one piece , if the lesion is very close to the skin part of skin is excised to ensure the .required safety margin