

The current system relies on paper and Excel sheets, and with the increasing number of students each year, the manual process has become difficult and leads to many errors. It will also give students the opportunity to register online, make it easier for teachers to record attendance, and provide the administration with more accurate and accessible reports.