

A climate change plan is a strategy designed to reduce the causes of climate change and adapt to its effects. It typically includes actions like cutting greenhouse gas emissions, transitioning to renewable energy sources, protecting forests, and promoting sustainable agriculture. Governments, businesses, and individuals all play a role in creating and following these plans to protect the planet for future generations.