

PHENOMENONOLOGICAL STUDIES Phenomenological studies begin with the assumption that multiple realities are rooted in subjects' perspectives. Through unstructured interviews, the investigator explores the subject's thoughts and feelings to elicit the essence of an individual's experience. Thus, an experience has different meanings for each person