

This teamwork experience enhanced our communication, leadership, and time-management skills. Overall, the project demonstrated how teamwork can transform complex research into a cohesive and insightful academic report. It mirrored Emaar's own collaborative culture, where innovation and cooperation drive success.