

It is very small and light and can fly almost anywhere. It has four engines and is called a quadcopter. There is a camera at the front, and it is very useful for taking photos. You can fly it using a smartphone or a remote control unit. Film and TV companies use them to make videos. It's a lot cheaper than using a helicopter.