

Because plastic isn't biodegradable and instead breaks down to smaller pieces called microplastic, and marine life could ingest it ( The problem with plastic is that it does not biodegrade, it simply breaks down (into smaller and smaller pieces) ( fish and other marine life will ingest it