

Consider promptly any significant areas of deficiency in financial reporting that might be improved (3
through the standard-setting process