

Laila's mother asked Laila, with a red robe, to go to her sick grandmother carrying a basket full of cakes? to deliver to her and to take the path that she always used to. She met Layla was walking the cunning wolf who was able to convince her of his kindness and love for her, and his desire to race her to grandmother's house after he knew where he was, he went the wolf to the grandmother's house and got rid of her after he deceived her and entered her house as Laila, and when Laila arrived, the wolf had wore the clothes of the grandmother and slept in her, welcome her, and when Laila began to ask him about the difference that followed his eyes, his mouth and face, he pounced on her to eat her, but a hunterman who was passing by the house, managed to saved