

Weird Free Time Activities Around the World
Extreme Ironing (UK): This bizarre yet fascinating activity involves people taking their ironing boards to remote or dangerous locations--like mountaintops or forests--and ironing clothes while overcoming the environmental challenges.
Ferret Legging (England): A once-popular, now rare competition where participants put live ferrets down their trousers and try to endure it for as long as possible without letting the animals out