

Understanding yourself requires self-knowledge through organization, diligence, positive self-talk, acceptance of constructive criticism, and efforts to enhance strengths while addressing weaknesses