

I hate gossip I find it boring and destructive yet so much in the media in publications and on the web is based on gossip a lot of people have become so heavily conditioned to it that they fail to recognize it as gossip they regard it as news information for public consumption