

The Eyelids It protects the eye from injury & excessive light by their closure. The superficial surface of the eyelids is covered by skin, & the deep surface is covered by a mucus membrane called the conjunctiva