

The Audio Key Project provides a foundational understanding of audio engineering, encompassing recording, mixing, mastering, and the use of electronic components (resistors, capacitors, transistors, integrated circuits) for audio signal control. It emphasizes a practical, hands-on approach alongside theoretical knowledge to ensure high-quality audio production