

Waste management is a vital process that aims to monitor, collect, transport, treat, recycle or dispose of .waste generated by human activities