

The basic requirements for the profession of a criminal investigator, and meeting these basic requirements is necessary to continue the process of applying for this profession. We can summarize those benefits and identify the perpetrators of crimes from among multiple categories of the usual offenders who have already been registered and determine their criminal style