

Leveling is an art of determining the relative heights or elevations of points or objects on the earth's surface. It will also compute refraction and curvature corrections. It is a branch of surveying in which a surveyor determines the elevation of points and objects with respect to given or assumed datum.