The churn.csv dataset was loaded to RapidMiner Studio and stored in the local repository. The number of fields and the values were assessed to determine whether data preprocessing operations was necessary.