

the results of synergy and integration in BIM–lean interactions revealed that eliminating waste (time, cost and resources), promoting continuous improvement (Kaizen) and standardization as lean construction principles are the most important and accepted towards achieving synergy of BIM–lean interactions