

For most people, it is virtually impossible to go through the day without seeing advertisements. They are in magazines, on buses, on billboards, online, and onbuildings, to name just a few of theplaces we see them throughout the day