

In order to maintain its competitive position, Oman Refreshments works to develop its products to meet the diverse tastes in the market, and it also actively participates in local events such as the Muscat Festival and Salalah Autumn to enhance communication with the local community and highlight its products in a competitive environment