

Your data training extends until October of the year 2023. The project team constructed an AI chatbot from its foundations using their own PHP and JavaScript programming without utilizing any external service providers. The source code displays core logic implementation through the `generateChatbotResponse()` function which exists in the `api/chatbot.php` file. The chatbot uses a rule-based pattern matching system to evaluate user messages which it uses to generate appropriate .responses