

In simple terms, we expect our conversational partners to make succinct, honest, relevant and clear contributions to the interaction and to signal to us in some way if these maxims are not being followed in particular circumstances. It is certainly true that, on occasion, we can experience conversational exchanges in which the cooperative principle may not seem to be in operation. Oh, a sandwich is a sandwich.