

The branch–line coupler is a four port network consisting of two main lines coupled by two quarter–wave length lines spaced by $\lambda/4$. Since the structure is reciprocal and simmetrical the following conditions can be imposed on the scattering paramete