

Mechatronics project: Developed a smart home system using an Arduino controller, incorporating humidity, noise, LDR, and temperature sensors. This project demonstrated proficiency in sensor integration, actuator control, and microcontroller programming, contributing to a seamless and intelligent .home automation system