

Explore values, codes and principles that govern ethical decisions in professional practice within nursing care settings. The course focuses on the regulatory mechanisms of the nursing profession and the rules and regulations controlling the practice of nursing. Case studies of potential and actual ethical issues and dilemmas arising in nursing practice are analyzed using the intellectual standards of critical thinking in a framework of ethical decision-making.