

These contracts are recognized by their specific characteristics and are subject to the provisions outlined in the Civil Code