

My cousin is one of the people closest to my heart. She is 8 years old, and despite her young age, I find in her maturity and wisdom beyond her years. We grew up together in the same family environment, and . I always saw her as a source of joy and vitality