The variables table displays various elements consisting of text, integer numbers and real numbers because they contain decimal numbers.The input will be in order in the table to obtain the last required output, which is as follows: