

Dora and the Lost City of Gold, directed by James Poppin, is an adventure film, published August 9, 2019 in the United States. Nothing can bring back the most dangerous adventure role ever in high school, and because she is overwhelmed, she always finds herself with Mozu, who is her best friend and cousin Diego and a group of teenagers venturing to the ruins of her parents and solving the impossible mystery and opinions of the lost Inca civilization. Dora spent most of her life exploring the jungle with her parents. Where you go to one of the cities of the Inca and enter into a new and exciting adventure