

Climate change is a pressing issue that affects the entire world. The paper also emphasizes the need for global cooperation and policy changes to mitigate the impacts of climate change. The paper highlights the importance of reducing greenhouse gas emissions and transitioning to renewable energy sources.