

We may think more clearly and present stronger arguments when we apply logic. Symbolization is the process of using symbols to make concepts easier to understand