

Stating and Restating the problem • The problem statement and restatement technique also helps evolve the understanding of the problem. • First write a statement of the problem, no matter how vague. to help identify the true problem. • The triggers are: • Place محفزات • Then use various triggers emphasis on different words in the statement and ask questions about each emphasis. • Replace one .word in the statement with a substitute that explicitly defines the word to reframe the problem