

What is computer? Hardware means the physical parts of the computer whereas the software means programs or set of instructions too Computer is an Electronic device that transforms data into meaningful information.