

I think that friendships are very important for doing well in school. They are the ones we trust with our fears and dreams, making our academic experience more enjoyable and memorable. Short but has the same meanin