The results of th	nis integrative review should be considered in light of the review's limitations and strengths. The first limitation is that only the term multimorbidity was searched